Germany's international talent arrives ambitious and alone.

Every year, thousands of qualified African and international students land in Germany with ambition, diplomas, and determination. Most have no professional network. No orientation. No one to show them where to go. At the same time, German companies urgently need diverse, internationally-minded talent and cannot find a trusted channel to reach them early.

1 in 3

Students leave within the first year

Not because of academic failure. Because of isolation, disorientation, and lack of access to professional networks that locals take for granted.

76%

Of companies struggle to recruit internationally

Germany's skills shortage is well documented. The diverse, motivated talent exists. The structured channel to reach them before competitors do does not.

Structured, trusted bridges between the two

No platform combines community trust, event infrastructure, mentorship, and Africa-Germany pipeline access in a single, scalable model. Until now.

The talent is here. The demand is here. What is missing is the bridge — and Level Up in Germany is building it, one structured connection at a time.

A career and community platform for international talent in Germany

Level Up in Germany is a non-profit initiative connecting African and international students, graduates, young professionals, and entrepreneurs with the mentorship, networks, and opportunities they need to thrive. We exist to close the access gap through structured formats, trusted partnerships, and a direct pipeline from Africa to Germany.

● Our mission To build a generation of diaspora youth in Germany who are oriented, connected, and equipped to succeed in the German job market and beyond.	● Our model Six recurring formats — conferences, tours, workshops, mentorship — plus an active Africa-Germany pipeline via our institutional sponsor AAD Institut in Cameroon (20+ students per month).	● Our conviction Talent is everywhere. Opportunity is not. The barriers facing international talent in Germany are not academic. They are relational and structural. A trusted community closes that gap at scale.

We are new enough to feel close to the audience. We are structured enough to be a serious partner.

OUR AUDIENCE

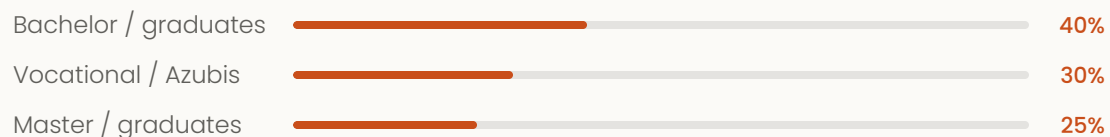

A qualified, motivated, recurring talent pool

Our community is not a general audience. It is a structured network of internationally-educated professionals at critical career and life transition points. The profile below is the most commercially relevant audience available to brands targeting international talent in Germany.

Proven model. Growing fast. Right moment to join.

The numbers below are built on organic growth, sold-out events, and active institutional sponsorship across Germany and Africa. No significant external funding. No advertising budget. Just a community that shows up because what we build genuinely serves them.

120k+ Total digital reach across all platforms	130 Participants at our last event, sold out in advance	7 Countries represented in active community	20+ New students arriving from Africa per month via AAD Institut	7+ Institutional and corporate sponsors confirmed
● Events that sell out Four Career Tours, three Business Tours, and multiple career workshops delivered in 2024 and 2025 across Frankfurt, Berlin, Munich, and Hamburg. Each edition reached capacity.	● A community that trusts us 120k+ reach built organically across TikTok, Instagram, Facebook, and WhatsApp communities. Our audience engages because we deliver content they genuinely need, not content we pay to push.		● Africa-Germany pipeline AAD Institut, one of our institutional sponsors in Cameroon, sends 20+ students per month to Germany. Each one needs orientation, financial setup, and a trusted community on arrival. We provide all three.

Six active formats, one integrated community

Six themes shaping the 2026 programme

Every session is built around themes our community actively asks about. The 2026 programme delivers practical knowledge, role models, and real partnerships across six core areas — each one an opportunity for partners to position themselves as relevant and valuable.

 Career and employment Navigating the German job market as an international graduate. Sector deep-dives, recruitment pathways, and visa-to-work transitions.	 Entrepreneurship Building businesses in Germany as a newcomer. Legal setup, freelance registration, funding routes, and diaspora founder stories.	 Mentorship and leadership Growing through structured guidance. The role of mentors, sponsors, and senior professionals in shaping international careers.
 Identity and integration Living between cultures. Diaspora identity, intercultural communication, and the long road to belonging in a new society.	 Financial setup Blocked accounts, health insurance, proof of funds, and permit renewal. The administrative foundation every newcomer must navigate.	 Africa and Germany bridges Cross-market entrepreneurship, talent mobility, and partnerships that work in both directions across the Africa-Europe corridor.

The partners who belong in this room

Not every brand fits our community. The right partners share one thing: they serve our audience with real, recurring needs — and they win when our audience succeeds in Germany.

Insurance providers

Germany welcomes thousands of African and international students annually. Many newcomers actively seek reliable, affordable insurance guidance before and after arrival, creating a high-intent, recurring audience for the right provider.

Banks and blocked-account providers

International students renew residence permits, prove financial capacity, and need fast, competent banking support at every stage. A trusted community channel dramatically reduces friction and builds lasting adoption.

Employers and recruiters

Companies gain direct access to motivated, qualified young profiles: vocational students, Bachelor and Master graduates, and multilingual young professionals with real Germany experience and cross-cultural fluency.

Africa-market companies

Brands targeting African markets meet young entrepreneurs, creators, and diaspora connectors who understand both Germany and Africa. A uniquely valuable audience for cross-market strategies and partnerships.

Before. During. After. One partnership, multiple touchpoints.

A Level Up partnership is not a logo on a banner for one day. It is a structured visibility journey that begins weeks before the event and continues months after, across every channel our community already trusts and uses daily.

1

Before the event

Partner announcement, website placement, newsletter mention, social teasers, and audience warm-up across all channels.

2

During the event

Exhibitor table, live stage visibility, speaking moments, branded activation, and direct conversations with 250+ motivated attendees.

3

After the event

Recap mentions, partner interviews, short-form videos, aftermovie visibility, and long-tail content extending your reach well beyond event day.

Active channels: TikTok · Instagram · LinkedIn · WhatsApp · YouTube · Newsletter · Website · On-site event communication

Sponsorship builds the conference

We are not looking for logo support alone. We are building the infrastructure that makes orientation, mentorship, company access, and practical knowledge available to a community that genuinely needs it.

Conference venue and setup

Room rental, stage setup, registration flow, signage, and a professional guest experience in a central Frankfurt location.

Production and media

Photo, video, aftermovie, partner interviews, and content assets that extend sponsor visibility long after the event.

Workshops and speaker formats

Preparation of panels, practical sessions, company workshops, and high-quality moderation for a curated, structured programme.

Mentorship infrastructure

Building the long-term model: every motivated student should be able to access a mentor in their chosen company or professional field.

University and company partnerships

Creating repeatable, scalable formats with universities, employers, and institutions beyond the annual conference cycle.

Community operations

Newsletter, CRM, ticketing, volunteer coordination, communication, and comprehensive post-event reporting for every partner.
